

October 2018

New Vision Packaging to exhibit at the Spirits Packaging Summit 2018

The Spirits Packaging Summit returns once again to create a forum that explores some of the big challenges for packaging developers, designers and manufacturers working in the spirits sector.

This year designers, specifiers and distilleries will come together in Edinburgh's Assembly Rooms to explore the latest trends, innovations and technologies in spirits pack design.

The programme includes speakers from distillery owners, design agencies and industry bodies, as well as representatives from some of the biggest names in the spirits sector.

New Vision Packaging is delighted to be taking part in the event and will be showcasing our latest and most creative packaging for the spirit and alcohol industries, as well as talking to visitors about our market-leading integrated packaging solutions.

Why not join us at Spirits Packaging Summit? The New Vision Packaging team will be on Table 1 and ready to answer any packaging queries you may have.

You can book your space at the summit today by clicking here>
<https://spirits.packagingnews.co.uk/>

Or for more information contact a member of the team on 01536 560 340.